OVERVIEW

Alexandra Fletcher is a shareholder with Bean, Kinney & Korman practicing family law and domestic relations. She helps guide her clients through the complexities of divorce, property division, child custody and visitation, spousal support and alimony, as well as pre- and post-nuptial agreements. She understands the emotional and financial aspects of separation and divorce and seeks to find solutions that are in the best interest of her clients and their families. In particular, Alexandra has the dedication and compassion from previously working with families in which children and spouses were abused. Her keen experience representing individuals in family law litigation and settlement negotiations provides her clients with the knowledge and security that she can help them meet their desired outcomes.

Alexandra is licensed to practice in Virginia, Maryland, Massachusetts, and the District of Columbia. She is certified by the Maryland State Bar Association to serve as a child's Best Interest Attorney, and is certified to represent clients in Collaborative Law matters. Prior to joining Bean, Kinney & Korman, Alexandra was Deputy Legal Director for Child Justice, Inc., a non-profit organization located in Montgomery County, Maryland.
